

Workday Announces Global Payroll Connect - One Solution to Manage All of an Organization's Payroll Needs

Company Unleashes the Power of the Workday Partner Ecosystem to Streamline and Simplify the Payroll Experience

PLEASANTON, Calif., Aug. 20, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Workday, Inc. (NASDAQ: WDAY), a leading provider of solutions to help organizations manage their people and money, today announced Global Payroll Connect, a unified global payroll solution that can seamlessly connect with payroll providers to deliver an end-to-end global payroll experience. With integrations across Workday's global partner ecosystem, Global Payroll Connect will empower customers to manage all of their payroll, HR, and workforce needs right within Workday.

According to a new report from Workday, half of global organizations do not have a single view of all global payroll, real-time visibility into workforce costs, or real-time data integration – making it difficult to understand spend across the global workforce and know whether payroll data is accurate and compliant.

With pre-built API integrations, Global Payroll Connect can reduce implementation costs up to 50% and provide a single point of access and visibility into payroll processing status across an organization's global workforce. This streamlined experience enables customers to process and access critical components as they run payroll – including workforce data, absence, time tracking, benefits, compensation data, and more – without needing to create custom integrations.

"On average, organizations manage five or more payroll systems, which is time-consuming, costly, and can lead to data reconciliation issues," said Cristina Goldt, general manager of workforce and pay, Workday. "Together with our partners, we're making it easier for customers to consolidate all their global payroll operations right within Workday to provide their employees with a better, more efficient way of accessing and controlling their payroll data."

With Global Payroll Connect, customers will be able to:

- Accelerate deployment times, reduce costs, and maximize time-to-value by eliminating the need to create and maintain numerous integration systems across local payrolls.
- Increase efficiency by bringing together global payroll operations – whether it's a Workday payroll solution or partner provided – all within Workday, giving them a single source of truth that includes HR, workforce, and pay insights regardless of where workers are paid.
- Deliver better employee experiences by giving employees self-service access to their payroll data all in one place (e.g. pay slips, benefits, bonuses, paid leave time, etc.), so they don't have to spend their time logging into multiple solutions to view this information.

Workday Payroll partners including ADP, CloudPay, PwC, Payslip, Safeguard, SHAPEiN, and Strada (formerly the Payroll and Professional Services business of Alight Solutions) are currently working with Workday to adopt Global Payroll Connect.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release contains forward-looking statements including, among other things, statements regarding Workday's full-year and second quarter fiscal 2025 subscription revenue and non-GAAP operating margin, growth, demand, strategy, and investments. These forward-looking statements are based only on currently available information and our current beliefs, expectations, and assumptions. Because forward-looking statements relate to the future, they are subject to risks, uncertainties, assumptions, and changes in circumstances that are difficult to predict and many of which are outside of our control. If the risks materialize, assumptions prove incorrect, or we experience unexpected changes in circumstances, actual results could differ materially from the results implied by these forward-looking statements, and therefore you should not rely on any forward-looking statements. Risks include, but are not limited to: (i) breaches in our security measures or those of our third-party providers, unauthorized access to our customers' or other users' personal data, or disruptions in our data center or computing infrastructure operations; (ii) service outages, delays in the deployment of our applications, and the failure of our applications to perform properly; (iii) privacy concerns and evolving domestic or foreign laws and regulations; (iv) the impact of continuing global economic and geopolitical volatility on our business, as well as on our customers, prospects, partners, and service providers; (v) any loss of key employees or the inability to attract, train, and retain highly skilled employees; (vi) competitive factors, including pricing pressures, industry consolidation, entry of new competitors and new applications, advancements in technology, and marketing initiatives by our competitors; (vii) our reliance on our network of partners to drive additional growth of our revenues; (viii) the regulatory, economic, and political risks associated with our domestic and international operations; (ix) adoption of our applications and services by customers and individuals, including any new features, enhancements, and modifications, as well as our customers' and users' satisfaction with the deployment, training, and support services they receive; (x) the regulatory risks related to new and evolving technologies such as AI and our ability to realize a return on our development efforts; (xi) our ability to realize the expected business or financial benefits of any acquisitions of or investments in companies, (xii) delays or reductions in information technology spending; and (xiii) changes in sales, which may not be immediately reflected in our results due to our subscription model. Further information on these and additional risks that could affect Workday's results is included in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), including our most recent report on Form 10-Q or Form 10-K and other reports that we have filed and will file with the SEC from time to time, which could cause actual results to vary from expectations. Workday assumes no obligation to, and does not currently intend to, update any such forward-looking statements after the date of this release, except as required by law.

Any unreleased services, features, or functions referenced in this document, our website, or other press releases or public statements that are not currently available are subject to change at Workday's discretion and may not be delivered as planned or at all.
